

Genesis Global Systems Products & CE Markings

Only product categories subject to specific directives within the EEA ("European Economic Area") that relate to Harmonised European Standards require CE Markings.

As Genesis Global Systems products do not have associated Harmonised European Standards related to them, they do not require CE Markings and as such cannot obtain them.

Technical Datasheets for Genesis Global Systems products are available which advise material composition and confirm their fit for purpose.

If further information is required, please contact info@genesis-gs.com
